Table of contents

Editor's Preface 3
List of Contributors 4

Introduction 6
Peter K. Austin

Launch of the Hans Rausing Endangered Languages Project 15
Lisbet Rausing

Endangered Languages: what should we do now? 18
David Crystal

Defining documentary linguistics 35
Tony Woodbury

Speakers and documentation of endangered languages 52
Colette Grinevald

Multimedia and documentation of endangered languages 73
Eva A. Csato and David Nathan

Genre, register and language documentation in literate and preliterate communities 85
William A. Foley

Documenting Lexicons: Chechen and Ingush 99
Johanna Nichols and Ronald L. Sprouse

The DOBES model of language documentation 122
Peter Wittenburg

Documenting languages: a view from the Brazilian Amazon 140
Daniel L. Everett

The opportunity and challenge of language documentation in India 159
E. Annamalai

Desperate straits for languages: how to survive 168
Nicholas Ostler

Language Documentation and Description, Volume 1

Edited by Peter K. Austin

THE HANS RAUSING
Endangered Languages Project
Because every last word means another lost world...